A EUROPEAN SETTLEMENT.

London, June 21.
M. Herriot, accompanied by the French permanent Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, arrived in London bound for Chequers, where he meets Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, accompanied by Sir Eyre Crowe.

High hopes centre on the week-end conversations which are taking place in a most favourable atmosphere. They are expected to prove an important first step towards settlement of Europe's outstanding problems.

The fact that General Nollet accompanied M. Herriot as far as Calais, in order to explain the exact position of France's security, the question with which is bound up the question of control of German armaments, indicates that this will likely be a prominent topic. The application of the experts' report will likewise be discussed.

M. Herriot to Reuters expressed the greatest faith in the Entente, for which he had wholeheartedly worked. He declared close Franco-British relations were essential, both now and in the future, for the peace of the world.—Reuter.

Paris, June 21.
Le Journal publishes a report from Berlin that the German Government has made a demarche to Britain with a view to securing a formal undertaking that the Ruhr towns of Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort will be evacuated as soon as the Reichstag has accepted legislative measures to give effect to the experts' report. The question will be discussed by Mr. MacDonald and M. Herriot at Chequers.—Reuter.

MOUNT EVEREST WINS AGAIN.

London, June 21.
Tragedy has attended the latest attempt to conquer Mount Everest, according to the Westminster Gazette, which states that Leigh Mallory and A. C. Irvine, two members of the party, were killed during the final attempt to reach the summit.

The Daily Express says the news received by the victims' relatives shows that Mallory and Irvine were caught in a monsoon near the summit.

Sir Francis Younghusband, interviewed by the Westminster Gazette, stated that the expedition was within a short distance of the summit, indeed, higher than ever previously attained; but it is practically certain the expedition will now have to be abandoned, at least for the present year.—Reuter.

JAPANESE MURDERED IN CALIFORNIA.

London, June 22.
The New York correspondent of the Sunday Express reports that the dead bodies of two Japanese were found on a country road near Fort Arthur, California, and another on Colorado Street outside Pasadena. The police suspect it is a reprisal for anti-American incidents in Japan. They believe the men were murdered in Los Angeles and the bodies taken to the spots where they were found. The correspondent states that recent anti-Japanese outbreaks near Los Angeles, have caused the Japanese Businessmen's Association

SOUTH AFRICAN ELECTIONS.

Blumenfontein, June 21.
Interviewed by the Cape Times, General Hertzog, referring to Mr. Tielman Roos's statement, said that Mr. Roos was free to say what he liked, but he (Hertzog) was not.

General Hertzog admitted that it was impossible for the Nationalists to carry on without Labour support. He expected the two parties shortly to come to a mutual understanding with regard to policy, and emphasised that the Nationalists were determined to keep the pledge and not attempt to change South Africa's constitutional relations with Britain as laid down by the Act of Union. The Nationalists did not consider secession a matter of practical politics, and were unlikely to do so until the rest of the people, especially the mass of British feeling, favoured it.—Reuter.

ITALIAN POLITICAL MURDER.

Rome, June 21.
The Messaggero says that one of the principal people arrested in connection with the Matteotti crime has admitted complicity and accused three other prominent Fascists, two of whom have been arrested as instigators.

It is alleged that Matteotti was dragged into a motor-car and murdered, the car driven to the woods and the body thrown into a hedge. The murderers returned to Rome and conferred with others with regard to disposal of the body, with the result that one of the assassins drove to the woods at night and disposed of the body, which the prisoner believed was burned.—Reuter.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTIONS.

Vancouver, June 22.
The general election is proceeding in British Columbia. The Premier, Mr. Oliver, has been defeated in Victoria City. The other Cabinet members have been re-elected.

A simultaneous plebiscite on the question of amending the Liquor Act to allow the sale of beer and light wines by the glass in licensed premises resulted in the cities and most of the larger towns voting against the amendment.—Reuter's American Service.

THE EX-KHALIF PENSIONED.

Secunderabad, June 21.
The Nizam of Hyderabad has granted the ex-Khalif Abdul Medjid a life pension of £300 beginning from the beginning of July.—Reuter.

CLAN STEAMER WRECKED.

London, June 21.
A message from Rangoon says the steamer Clan MacMillan reports having received a S. O. S. from the stonner Clan MacMillan, which is in a sinking condition thirty miles South East of Table Island. The Leicester is within sixteen miles of the Clan MacMillan, which was bound from the Clyde and then from Calcutta for Nukualofa in the Friendly Islands.

Later.
A message from Rangoon says the Leicester reached the reported position of the Clan MacMillan at midday, but there was no sign of the Clan MacMillan or her boats. A search is being made.

Rangoon, June 21.
It is reported that the Clan MacMillan's boats have been sighted off Andamans.

Rangoon, June 22.
Efforts to find the Clan MacMillan have failed. An earlier report that her boats had been sighted off Andamans is untrue.—Reuter.

BANKRUPTCY OF ERIC

he had a small limited company, Moller & Co., and he put $50,000 each into the Shanghai Office and $50,000 into the Hongkong office.
The Shanghai office unfortunately lost its capital and was quietly wound up, everything being paid.
He had also to shelve the Hongkong office, a trusted servant they had, down there having embezzled nearly all the capital. This company was being held in abeyance in case one of his children by and by wished to start business in Hongkong.

Hongkong's Indemnity Act.

Mr. Moller described at length his many attempts to get the Hongkong Government to meet his claim in whole or in part, saying that he visited Hongkong two or three times a year for this purpose. The position at one time looked very favourable, he being given to understand that his readiness to accept 50 per cent. of the total amount due would be favourably considered at Home. Then came publication of the Singapore judgment, and the passing of the Indemnity Act, which barred his claim being heard and prevented him from recovering anything.
The Ralph Moller was handed over to the Yangtze Insurance Association and was sold for Tls. 55,000, and thus there passed into Chinese ownership a vessel for which he had paid Tls. 475,000.

Mr. Moller concluded by saying that he was prepared to work to the utmost to carry out his proposal to creditors, but it would entail 10 years' mental strain. He trusted that when the Hongkong Government saw the position in which he was placed they would come forward from behind the barrier of the Indemnity Act and do him the justice of relieving him of some part of the burden he was taking on his shoulders in the attempt to do the right thing by his creditors.

The Ownership of "Fairland." After his statement had been read over, Mr. Moller asked permission to make reference to "Fairland," saying that he did not want any wrong impression.

Mr. Ward—"Fairland" has not been disclosed in the statement of assets, and I do not see that it is material until Mr. Moller is questioned about it.

The Official Receiver suggested that the matter should be left till later on.

His Lordship--Nobody has asked you any questions about "Fairland," Mr. Moller.

Mr. Ward--And you have been treated very kindly, you know.

Mr. Moller--From your point of view, Mr. Ward.

Debtor was allowed to make his statement, and informed the court that "Fairland" was financed by his father-in-law, Mr.
Blechynden, in 1907. Just before he died, Mr. Blechynden asked witness to see that Mrs. Moller and the children were protected, and accordingly he confirmed the property in his wife's name, most of it having been so purchased and registered.

His Lordship--There has been no suggestion, Mr. Moller, that your statement of affairs is not an accurate statement.

The examination was then declared adjourned.

SOUTH AFRICANS v.
HAMPSHIRE

London, June 21. -- The match between the South Africans and Hampshire started to-day at Southampton in fine weather before 3,000 spectators. The wicket was easy, and Tennyson winning the toss elected to bat. Hampshire compiled 270, lay scoring 100 century by vigorous straight driving. He gave several chances and hit eleven fours. The innings occupied three hours and ten minutes. Newman scored 58.
Blanchenberg took six wickets
for 121 runs.

At the close of play, the South Africans had scored 63 runs for the loss of two wickets. --Reuter.

MONSTROUS.

Lord Middleton, at the recent dinner of the Royal Institute of British Architects, threw another stone at three London erections which have suffered many a martyrdom in their time.
He remarked on "three of the most monstrous instances of lack of art that had ever been put up in any capital"--the Albert Memorial, Charing Cross Bridge,
and the Griffin at Temple Bar.
Samuel Butler confessed to a fondness for the Griffin, and Cubists have glorified Charing Cross Bridge. Will nobody do-fond--or put up a shield in front of--the Albert Memorial?

The Telegraph.

HONGKONG, 23rd June, 1924.

HONGKONG.

Hongkong tenants, who know something about high rents, will possibly be interested in some figures relating to the returns on house property in the United States which have just been made public by the National Association of Real Estate Boards after exhaustive investigations into the subject. The statistics, together with the statements regarding general tendencies in this connection are worth noting, because we imagine that standards of rent in America more nearly approximate those prevailing here than do those obtaining in the United Kingdom. The returns show that in cities of from 25,000 to 100,000 population rents in the United States now average $15 (gold) per room per month in the best localities, down to $4 per room in the bottom grade. In cities of 250,000 population and over, the monthly rent ranges from $25 to $5 per room. What is of more interest than these figures, however, is the fact that rents have stabilised (ceased rising) in three-fourths of the principal cities. In sixteen out of every hundred cities, rents are dropping, whilst in ten out of every hundred they are still going up.

The question now agitating the minds of the investigators is whether this is a merely temporary situation. It is quite probable, they say, that queer things may happen to prices, rents included, before long. Here it is pointed out that four years ago, after a long period of inflation, prices crashed and brought hard times—or, to put it another way, hard times came and made prices low. Then prosperity slowly returned and prices started rising, economists saying that a "secondary period of inflation" had started, true to historical precedent. It is now thought possible that when this secondary inflation has run its course, prices will sag again. If history repeats itself, it appears that the tendency of prices, through the centuries, is to travel in cycles of about fifty years, rising for, roughly, twenty years and then falling for thirty. The fall is not steady, but zig-zag—up and down, up and down, gradually sinking to normal. That is what happened after the Napoleonic Wars. Changed conditions may, or may not, prevent a return to normal. No-one knows the future. But these are the broad tendencies shown by past history. So far as rents go, it would appear that in America, as here, the housing shortage is still apparent, though slowly vanishing; and in the one case, as in the other, the best means of bringing rent standards down is to build as many homes as are needed for the populace.

The Everest Tragedy.

Again has disaster attended the attempt to conquer Mount Everest, highest of mountains. One reads of the deaths of two members of this year's expedition with the greatest regret, especially as they were so near success. Last time the attempt had to be abandoned when the summit had almost been attained, and there was every reason to expect that at last the goal of years of heroic endeavour was to be reached. The elements have again cheated the expedition of the fruits of their striving, and have demonstrated once more what a puny object is man when he enters upon the unequal contest with the forces of nature. It comes as no surprise to read that Sir Francis Younghusband speaks of the abandoning of the expedition with the qualification "at least for the present year". There is no question but that the attempt will be made again and again until success is achieved, as with the polar expeditions which have had such tragic and yet glorious results. While men can be found inspired with the traditional characteristic of grit and pertinacity which makes even Mother Nature relent in the end and turn a smiling face on their efforts. The great height of the peak has necessitated the use of special apparatus, such as oxygen containers for breathing in the very rarified air. The expedition this year was led by Captain Geoffrey Bruce, a hardy pioneer of Himalayan climbing. Mount Everest was first charted by white men in 1903, and several unsuccessful attempts to scale its summit have been made under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society and the Alpine Club. Eight men had, up to this year, given their lives in the attempts to climb to the calculated height of 29,000 feet; and two members of the last expedition, in 1922, reached a point within 1,700 feet of their goal when they were forced to descend, through exhaustion of their supplies while awaiting favourable weather for the final dash.

Britain and Mexico.

It is surprising to find the American newspapers commenting adversely on Britain's attitude towards Mexico in the Cummins case, unless there is more in the matter than meets the eye. However, we are prepared to accept the British Government's assurance that it is quite satisfied with the correspondence which it has received and pursued. The spectacle of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald sticking up for British rights seems to have taken certain persons aback, but it would be more surprising were he to abandon our interests for the sake of a "gesture" in a case where such an attitude would immediately be misinterpreted. The lesson has yet to be learned by some persons that it is not a British characteristic to take things lying down. We are very tolerant at times, too much so often enough, but the pastime of "twisting the lion's tail" can suddenly become extremely dangerous when that animal decides to bear no more. Because Mr. MacDonald and his Cabinet are seekers after peace, is no sign that they are purblind pacifists, or that they do not know how to uphold the dignity of the country and the nation; and if Mexico has to learn this, it might also prove an object lesson in other quarters where misinterpretation of the British Government's attitude prevails.

Whilst excavating earth on the hillside near the No. 7 Railway Bridge yesterday, a coolie fell down a height of thirty feet on to some rocks at the foot of the hill and was killed instantaneously. The remains were taken to the Mortuary.

The sugar merchants in Canton intend to strike as a protest against the Government's proposal to levy a tax on all commodities composed wholly or partially of sugar. Advice has been sent to Hongkong, with a request that cargo be held for the time being.

There has been no further development arising from the demand of the moulders of the Colony for a 60 per cent. general increase on their wages. The men are still awaiting the reply of the Government establishments, which may come at any moment. It was stated at the Chinese Engineers' Institute this morning.

At the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning, a Chinese woman and her amah, both of 133E, Des Voeux Road West, appeared as defendants in a case of receiving and harbouring an unmarried girl, 15 years old. Mr. R. E. A. Webster appeared for the complainants. It appears that, acting on information received, police officers visited a house in Woo Sung Street where the defendants were found with the girl. They were then taken into custody and charged. Defendants were remanded till Wednesday.

A very interesting football match was played at Soekunpoo on Saturday between the East Surveys and the Rest of the Garrison, the gate proceeds going to a fund for the dependents of the late R.A.O.C. Griggs, of the R.A.O.C. The ground was in bad condition after the week's rain, but clever play was witnessed, and a hard-fought tussle ended in a victory for the East Surveys by four goals to two. There was a good attendance, and many tickets were also sold to people who were unable to be present.

ACCIDENT TO GERMAN SHIP.

HAWKERS FOUL PROPELLER IN HARBOUR.

Yesterday evening the Hugo Stinnes steamer Emil Kirdorf was leaving her pier at Kowloon wharf when the parting of two wire hawsers near her stern resulted in one of the hawsers fouling her propeller, and a serious accident seemed imminent. There was a strong tide and high wind at the time, and the German vessel began to drift down harbour.

Fortunately she was not carried out towards other shipping, and when opposite Holt's wharf was brought up by her anchors. She signalled for assistance, and two tugs from the Kowloon Dock took her in tow and she was moved out to a neighbouring buoy. Divers are at work to-day removing the obstruction.

TWO-MINUTE TALKS A Daily Tonic By ROBERT POWER

THE NEW DAY.

The new day means that the minutes may seem to have night has ended. Once again the dawn fraught with heaviness: for, sable curtain is lifted and the in the darkness, troubles assume light floods back into the world of a more menacing aspect. But at dawn and affairs. Dawnlight last the darkness turns to grey, brings fresh cares, hopes, happiness, and responsibilities. Then to silver, the old familiar objects in the bedroom are revealed, and responsibilities. Another day has dawned. What a witchery there is in it. Just as day surely follows the night, so rejoicing follows mourning. It is worth the trouble of getting up extra early to see the dawn of early morning turn of greyish into golden glory as the red throws into relief the beauty of the new day. Why is it that the sun rises and boats back the shadows from the sky. To walk in the fields, or through the copse, or out upon the moorland, to see Nature holding revel for the joy of the new day. There is a freshness in the air which invigorates. The dew yet sparkles on the grass. The birds, carol as though they are intoxicated, singing their songs as soon as the first streaks of dawn are visible. The fish rise in the pool, snapping at the flies and taking toll of the gnats. Far away may be heard the lowing of the cows driven in for milking, and the sharp bark of the dog as he gambols round the farm workers. A new day! Not only sweet smelling in its fragrance of early morning, but a new day of Opportunity and Hope. The night may have been long. To the sufferer dawn comes, we see things as they are. Another day means every hour may seem to have halted by on leaden feet. To those who carry a load of care, labour, and renewed hope.

THE PIRATE GUNBOAT.

PASSENGER JUNKS TERRORISED.

It is now estimated that twenty-three persons have been kidnapped, altogether, in the course of Chinese gunboat Kwong Tai's piratical depredations. The greater part of the loot, valued at $100,000, was in cash. These activities by a renegade warship have terrorised passenger junks that ply in the neighbourhood. These junks were victims in one raid, the Lee Shing and Wing Ching, on the Hongkong-Shanghai run, and the Kwan On of the Hongkong-Kau Kong service. They left Shekkl in convoy on Friday morning, on their way here, and when off Tai Nam, Ho Mi, were stopped by the Kwong Tai, which displayed a large banner announcing in Chinese characters that it was authorised to search the vessels for arms. The piracy which followed was entirely unexpected. Representatives of the companies owning the pirated vessels have left for Canton to bring the matter to the notice of Dr. Sun Yat-sen.

Since this piracy, the services to Shekkl and to Kau Kong have been suspended and other junks have been held back on the mainland, so that the whole business and passenger traffic has been thrown out of gear. It is reported that the leader of these pirates is one Lam Choy, of the Pak Fa Tau district, and head of the Hon Ming Tong, a gang numbering several hundred desperate characters. He appears to have got the Kwong Tai crew to make common cause with him.

With the junks at the time of the piracy on Friday were the towing launches Hung Tung and Hung Fat, and all the junks and launches are now reported to have been released by the freebooters.

WARSHIP'S MEN MUTINIED. Our Canton correspondent sends us news to-day which throws light on the peculiar position of this Chinese warship turning a pirate ship.

According to reports from semi-official sources, he says, the Kwong Tai left Canton on Friday morning under orders to patrol the West River. Shortly after weighing anchor, about half the lower-deck ratings mutinied, owing to having been unpaid for several months, and confined the others and their officers below hatches. They then proceeded to pirate a number of passenger and trading junks and launches.

Later, the newly-turned pirates steamed for Shachung, where a big gang of robbers were waiting for them, and the mutinous crew landed, taking ashore all the kidnapped passengers, the booty, and all the guns, arms and ammunition of every description carried by the gunboat.

ITALIAN CAUSE CELEBRE!

Communists Demonstrate.

Rome, June 22. Cesare Rossi has surrounded to the police in connection with the Italian political murder case. —Reuter

London, June 22. The Matteotti crime is arousing the ire of socialists all over Europe. A Geneva message says a stormy public protest-meeting numbered two thousand, including the Labour Conference delegates representing Britain, France, Holland, Germany and Belgium. Allusion to the Fascist regime in the speeches provoked cries of "Assassini! Banditi!" The tumult was accompanied by expressions like: "To the guillotine!" Finally the meeting unanimously passed a resolution demanding freedom for the Italian workers.

A Paris message says disorderly scenes followed a Communist meeting, including many Italians. When the meeting concluded, the participants encountered a procession of local societies with bands playing, whom they mistook for a counter demonstration. A free fight ensued, and the police intervened. Fighting became fierce, developing into a three-party melee. Casualties were inflicted on both political parties before the police cleared the streets. —Reuter.

RUSSIA'S NEW COINAGE.

British Mint Assists Output.

London, June 22. In consequence of the inability of the Leningrad mint to meet sufficiently quickly the coinage requirements for trade uses, the Soviet Government has contracted with the Royal Mint for the coining of forty million half-rouble pieces, called "poltniks," to consist of nine parts silver and one of copper, the value to be about one shilling.

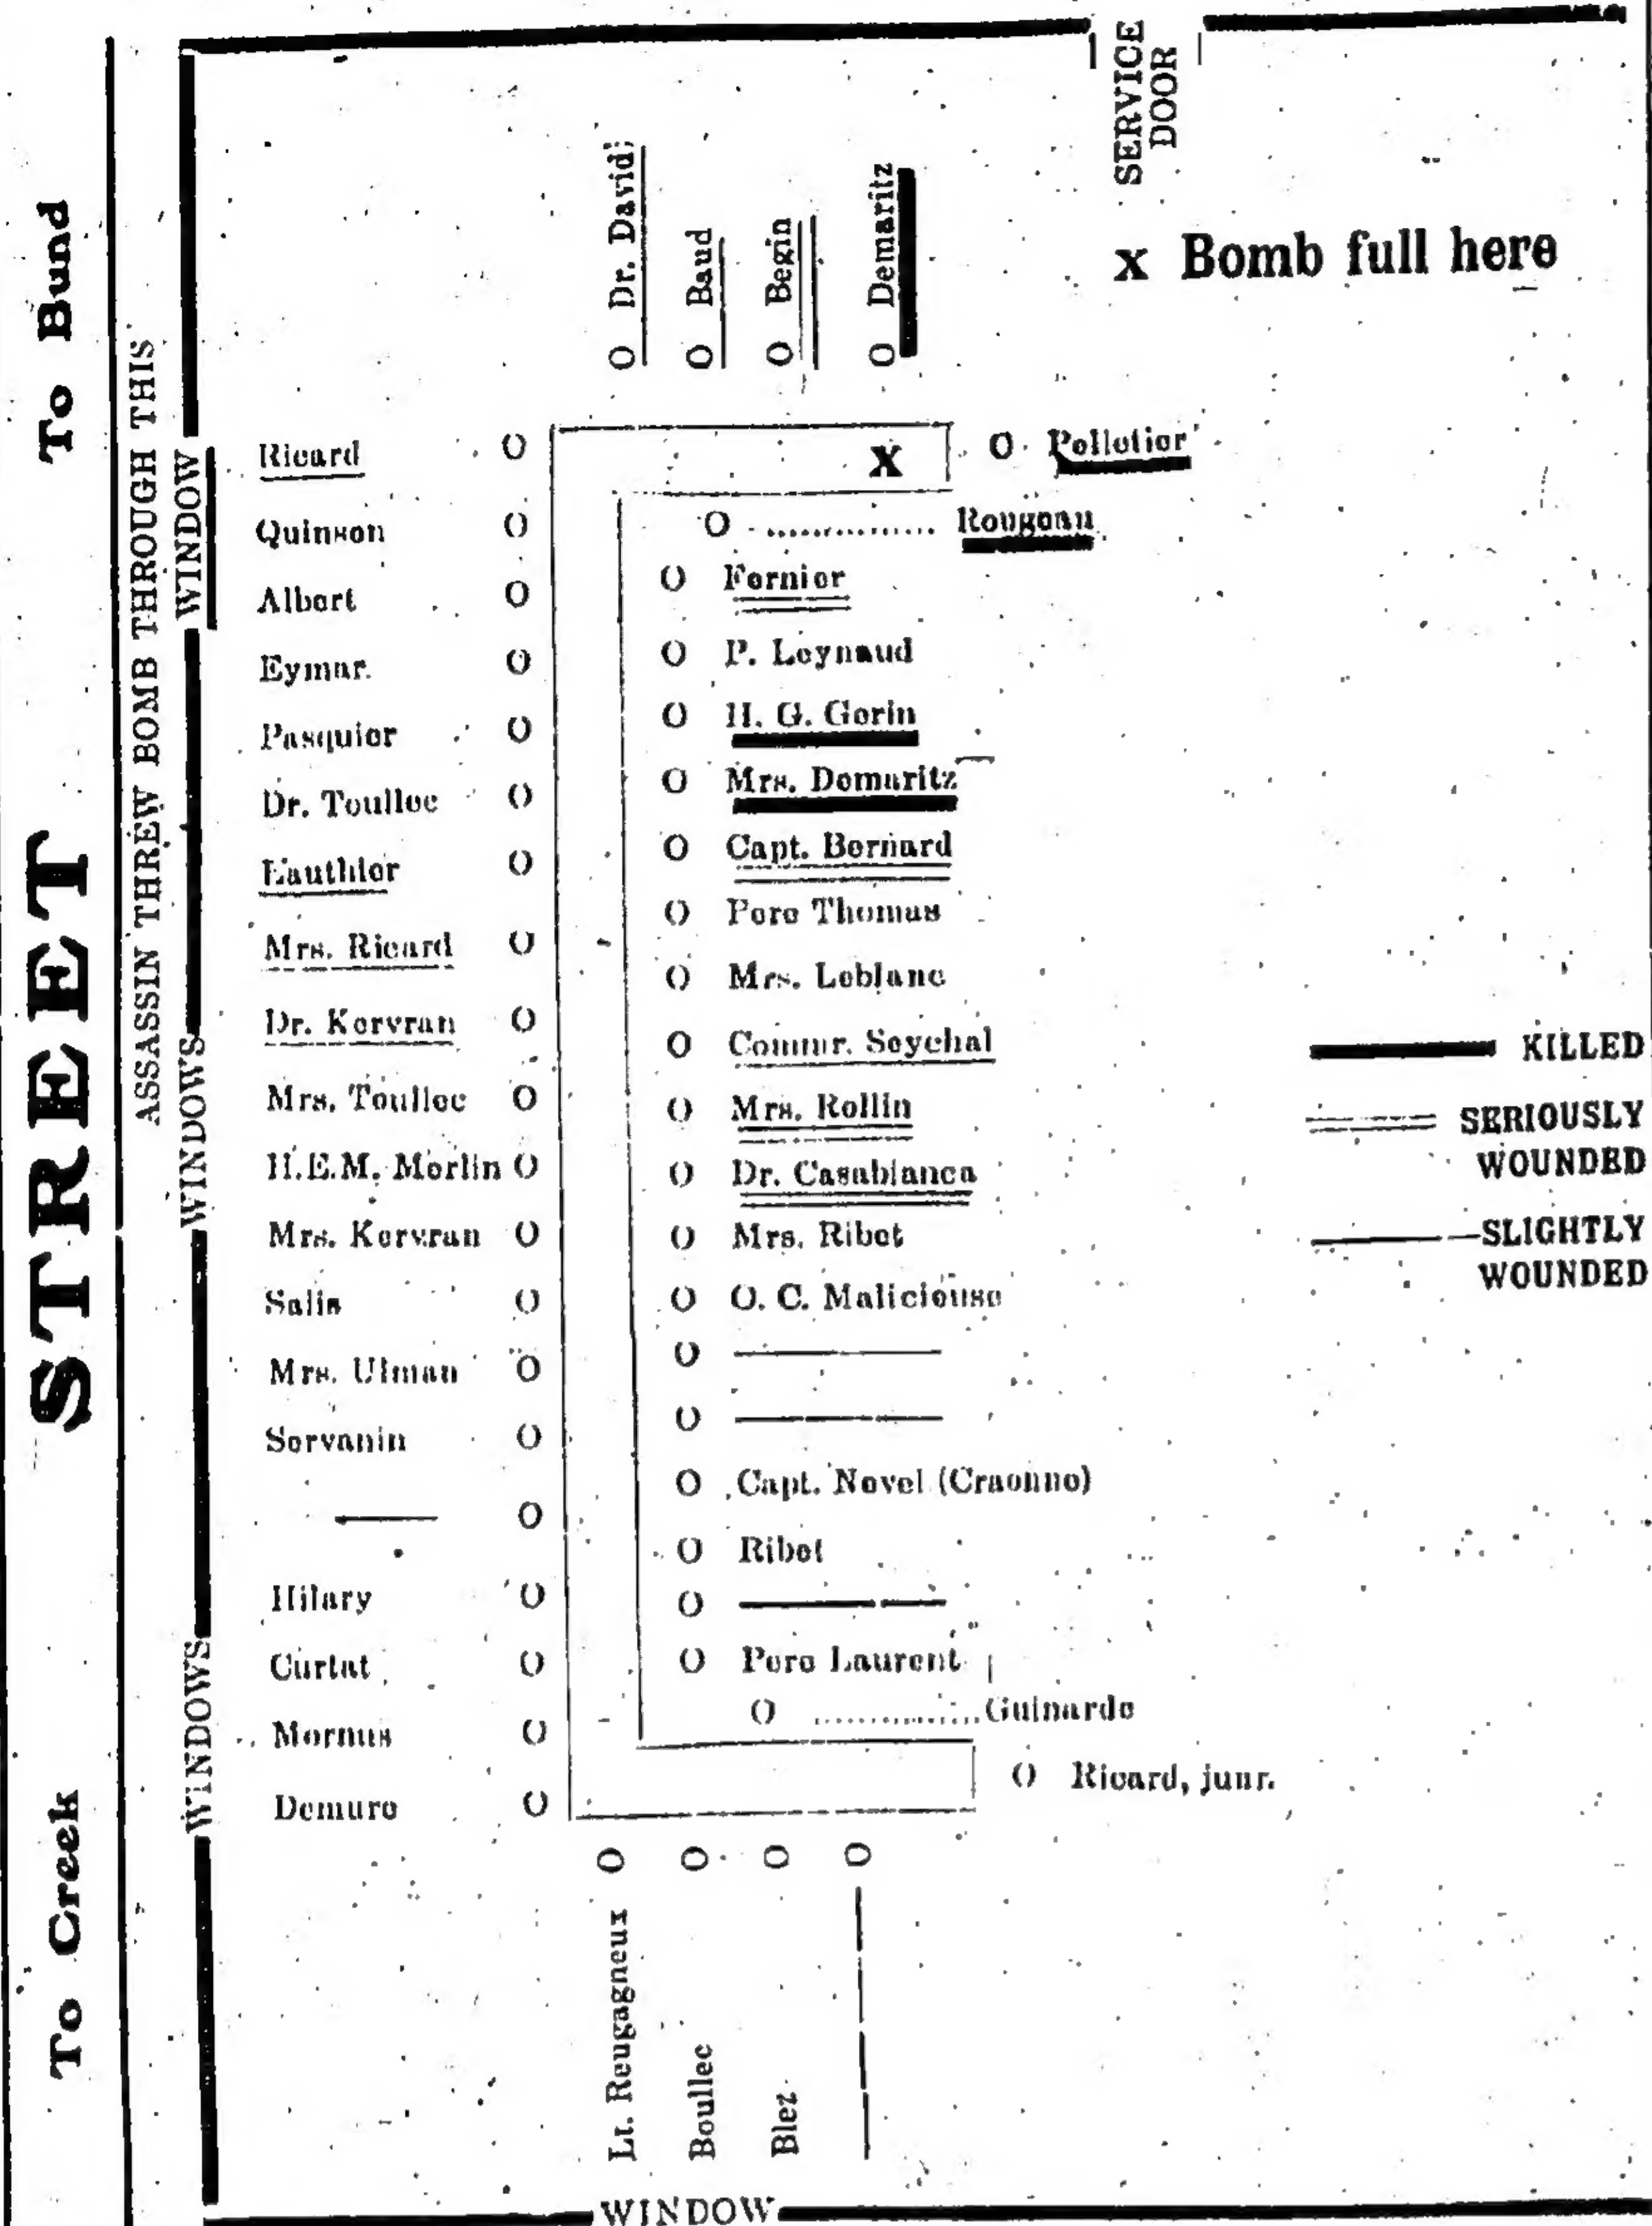

The Soviet Trade Delegation in London is supplying the necessary silver, all of which has already been quietly secured. The coinage will begin at the end of June, and delivery be effectable within four months. The Leningrad mint is also manufacturing silver roubles and silver poltniks, besides silver twenty-five and ten kopek pieces, also smaller denominations in copper. —Reuter.

As soon as these men had left the others on the warship got out of their confinement, the officers resumed command, and the Kwong Tai was steamed for Whampoa, where the affair has been reported to the authorities.

Another report states that one of the British gunboats on the Hongkong-Kowloon patrol, learning of these pirates from a passing launch, immediately set out to hunt for the Kwong Tai, with what result is not known.

THE SHAMEEN OUTRAGE.

Plan of the Dining Table.

The above plan of the dining table at Victoria Hotel on the night of the banquet to M. Merlin is supplied to us by our Shameen correspondent. It is impossible to give all of the names of the guests owing to the hotel list having been destroyed during the confusion which followed the outrage. It will be observed that His Excellency the Governor General (M. Merlin) had a miraculous escape, two of the guests seated immediately opposite him being badly injured. Father Thomas, who realised that the missile was a bomb, undoubtedly saved Mrs. Leblanc and himself from injury by dragging that lady away from the table. Mons. P. Leynaud also probably owes his life to his plucky action in immediately giving chase to the assassin. It is generally believed in French circles that on account of his gray hair and facial resemblance, Mons. Rougeau was mistaken by the assassin for the Governor-General.

THE BROKEN BLADE.

SEQUEL TO GRIM COINCIDENCE.

A Chinese arrested as a suspect in Connaught Road West in the early hours of May 18th was found to be in possession of a knife with its point broken off. The tip of a knife having been found in connection with a robbery and murderous attack in Lokhing Lane the previous morning, the two were compared and they were found to fit exactly, the man being subsequently charged with the theft and with wounding Ching Tai-chi with intent to do him grievous bodily harm. Later it was ascertained that he was Ching Young-kan, the step-brother of the injured man. He was indicted at the Criminal Sessions this morning and pleaded not guilty. Mr. N. I. Brower appearing to defend him.

The case for the Crown was conducted by Mr. T. Hazlerigg, who, in outlining the case, said that prisoner was charged with the theft of a coat from Ho Hang and at the same time using personal violence towards Ching Tai-chi, the husband of Ho Hang. The wounded man resided on the first floor of No. 2, Lokhing Lane with his wife and two daughters in the centre cubicle, which was only separated from the passage by a curtain. The front cubicle was occupied by his eldest son and his wife.

At 4.30 in the morning of May 17th, said Mr. Hazlerigg, Ching Tai-chi was sleeping with his wife when he was aroused by a crackling sound. He put on his slippers and went outside the curtain and immediately caught sight of a man standing at the doorway which had been forced open. The man attacked him at once, striking at him with a knife which penetrated his cheek and knocked out a tooth, injured the gums and loosened other teeth. Ching Tai-chi pluckily closed with him, catching hold of him round the neck and by the wrist. The man broke away, but Ching caught hold of his coat tails as he began to run down stairs and they tore away in his hands. The remainder of the coat was found in the street and in the pocket were found three gold buttons and five button rings. The buttons were rare, being made from British half-sovereigns. They had been cut from the coat of Ho Hang.

Later in the morning, the wife of the eldest son found that an attempt had been made to force a drawer of her dressing table. A knife tip was found in the hole that had been made in the woodwork.

At 3.30 a.m. on May 18th, continued the Crown Solicitor, prisoner aroused the suspicions of a constable in Connaught Road West who arrested him and took him to the Central Police Station. There, underneath a broad leather belt, a knife with a broken point was discovered. It had appearances of bloodstains and upon the tip found at Lokhing Lane being compared, they were found to fit exactly. The Government Bacteriologist confirmed the fact that the stains on the knife and on the trousers of accused were bloodstains.

Accused made no denial of the ownership of the knife until he was charged at the Magistracy, when he alleged that the constable took him to Lokhing Lane before he went to the Police Station and he suggested that the knife was "planted" on him. Was it credible that the wounded man would admit being unable to identify his assailant if he had 1851 EXHIBITION VISITOR AT WEMBLEY.

Sir John Bowen-Jones, who is 84, and was in attendance on Queen Victoria at the opening of the Great Exhibition in 1851, has visited the Empire Exhibition at Wembley. A Deputy-Lieutenant of Shropshire, he travelled specially from Council House Court, Shrewsbury. "The Exhibition of 1851," he said, "could be tucked away in a corner of the present Exhibition."

conspired to implicate his stepbrother? Scratches were found on the back of prisoner's neck and that could be accounted for by the fact that Ching Tai-chi grasped the man round the neck.

Dr. A. G. M. Sovern gave evidence of Ching Tai-chi's admission to hospital, and, questioned by Mr. Brower, he said that the fact that a tooth was knocked out rather suggested that an instrument with a blunt end was used.

The case is proceeding.
